

THE TRIBUNE.

Friday, September 18, 1903.

From Mrs. Oliver.

We remained over night in the Palace hotel at Willets. We must confess we were lonely—way out in that mountainous little city. The land-lady told us she was well acquainted with our sister and that she would be in for us the next morning. While we were waiting for our sister and brother-in-law to come for us we thought to spend the time in reading as we had noticed a good book in the parlor and went in to get it. We saw a strange lady bowing to us, saying "It is a pleasant morning." We told her we thought it somewhat cool. Said she had come in from the rural districts and had had a most delightful drive. We concluded she was a pleasant lady so we unconsciously sat down to talk. It occurred to our mind to ask her if she lived in the direction of Mr. Cox, our brother-in-law. She said with an earnest look on her countenance—"I am Mrs. Cox." I said, "Are you Julia?" While she exclaimed, "Are you Kate?" Then she ran to call her husband and I wept. So long a time since I saw her—thirty years, but time has used her well. No grey hairs, no crow's feet, shoulders not bent but graceful and beautiful.

The mountain air is fine and as we wound round those mountain roads that brought us to the picturesque home of our sister we could but adore the God of nature. It should be our delight to study those things. As the child standing by its parents knee asks explanation alike of the simplest things and of the most profound, so should man turning to nature the oracle of his Creator, continually ask for knowledge.

Nature is effect whose cause is God.

Whipple says nature does not send her golden gifts to lazy people but imposes tasks when she presents opportunities and uplifts him whom she would inform. Today I pick up my manuscript for the first time in two weeks and as I write I am passing from San Francisco to Portland Oregon. O, the beauties of Mt. Shasta! Under its shades we are just now passing. The pure air from its snow clad summit makes us feel better than we ever felt in our lives, a real physical and spiritual uplift. Many thousand feet above the Ocean level. One lady whom we met said, "O, how great is God, who formed this great mountain!" Her tears were falling. I am sure she realized being in an ethereal clime. We are now nearing the line between California and Oregon. How our three engines do puff and groan for we have not lost sight of Shasta until we are tugging away to climb Siskiyou, elevation 4125.

Scenery is inspiring. All are eloquent of the great Hand that made them. Over the line into Oregon we go and now it is raining, the very first rain we have seen since we left home, as we look out we see clouds below and a bright rain bow on them. It is so cold and now the rain turns into a small snow storm. The sun bursts out occasionally and all is again most gorgeous.

I close hoping to be home soon I know I must have tried your patience for my squibs have been written on the train and under many difficulties.

MRS. KATE OLIVER.

During a recent theatrical performance in Eureka a Herald reporter sat near two Eureka girls, and several times during the performance one of them made slighting remarks about the personal appearances of women in the audience. The reporter also noticed that the young woman who made the remarks was shy two buttons on the back of her dress, while the safty pin which hid service as a skirt fastener showed quite prominently above the belt.—Eureka (Kansas) Herald.

We close the second week with an enrollment of 393.

We cannot fail to notice and commend the pupils all along the lines for the prompt, vigorous and enthusiastic manner in which they have taken up the duties of the new year.

Work is upon us, but industry and good cheer prevail. The discouragement of yesterday vanishes in the light of a new day. The students of last year enters our ranks determined and prepared to make this year his best. We mean by the student, that boy or girl who is not afraid of work, who knows his duty and has the courage to do it. He is a living, breathing, energetic piece of humanity, justly proud of wearing the badge of his profession—his brains and his books.

We have another non-resident pupil enrolled in the high school this week—Philip Wise of Wells-ville Mo.

We trust that other pupils who contemplate entering will do so at once. You are welcome at any time, but your work and classification will be easier if you enter now.

We have had several visitors in the high school this week, all of whom were former students. We appreciate your continued interest in the school. Come often.

Patrons, we hope to see you frequently this year. Even an occasional visit will prove beneficial to all concerned—the doors are open. Come in.

Respectfully,

DORA E. HAMS.

Dr. C. O. Davidson, oculist and optician of Montgomery City was in Bellflower Monday shaping up a number of peoples eyes so they can enjoy life and better see the rapid growth of Bellflower—the best town on the Burlington cut-off. The Doctor must understand the human eye to perfection as he examines them with the ophthalmoscope and retinoscope and fits glasses that corrects the vision without consulting patients as to what they thought they needed. He explained the difference between the cheap small lenses used and those of a high grade. He also stated that 75 per cent of all headaches could be cured by the proper fitted lenses (the class of headaches that are treated by powders, tablets and capsules). He also explained why so many more people have glasses to-day than 25 years ago. Dr. Davidson was a general practitioner of medicine for 20 years before giving special attention to diseases of the eye and the fitting of glasses, thus better qualifying himself for this special work.—Bellflower News.

Orin Clare went to St. Louis Monday to have his eyes treated.

A Woman's Complexion.

It is rank foolishness to attempt to remove sallowness or greasiness of the skin by the use of cosmetics, or "local treatment," as advocated by the "beauty doctors." The only safe and sure way that a woman can improve her complexion is by purifying and enriching the blood, which can only be accomplished by keeping the liver healthy and active. The liver is the seat of disease and blood pollution. Green's August Flower acts directly on the liver, cleanses and enriches the blood, purifies the complexion. It also cures constipation, biliousness, nervousness, and induces refreshing sleep. A single bottle of August Flower has been known to cure the most pronounced and distressing cases of indigestion. New trial size bottle, 25 cents; regular size, 75 cents. At all druggists.

William Blue, - - Plaintiff.

The unknown heirs or devisees of Asa Mannen, John A. Young and John P. Farrow Defendants.

Now on this 9th day of September 1903, comes plaintiff in the above entitled cause by his attorney A. W. Lafferty, before the undersigned Clerk of this Court in vacation, and files his petition and affidavit, stating among other things, that he is the owner in fee simple of the following described real estate, lying, being and situate in the County of Montgomery, and State of Missouri, to-wit:

The South half of the South half of the South-east quarter of Section 3, and the North half of the North-east quarter of Section 10, all in Township 49, Range 4, West, containing 120 acres more or less.

That the plaintiff and his grantors have been in the continuous and uninterrupted possession of said real estate under claim of ownership thereof for more than 40 years, that during said time plaintiff and his grantors have exercised over said land all the ordinary and usual acts of ownership; have paid the taxes of said land and farmed same, actually residing on same, and that during said time no person other than plaintiff and his grantors have made any claim whatever to the same, but that a part of said land was originally conveyed by letters patent from the United States Government to Asa Mannen now deceased, and part of said land was originally conveyed by letters of patent from the United States Government to John A. Young, now deceased, and that part of said land, was originally conveyed by the letters patent from the United States Government to John P. Farrow now appear of record to have an interest in said real estate.

That said heirs are unknown to this plaintiff, and personal service cannot be had on them, not got their names inserted in said petition.

It is now therefore ordered by the Clerk of this Court in Vacation, that publication be made notifying the said unknown heirs that suit has been commenced against them in the Circuit Court, the object and general nature of which is to obtain a decree of said Court, perfecting plaintiff's title to said lands and vesting the same in plaintiff by limitation under and by virtue of Art., 1 of Chap., 48, of the Revised Statute of the State of Missouri 1899, and to quiet the title to said land as between the plaintiff and unknown heirs.

And unless you the unknown heirs or devisees of Asa Mannen, John A. Young and John P. Farrow, be and appear at the next regular term of this Court, to be begun and held in the City of Montgomery, in said County and State, on the second Monday in Nov. next 1903, and on or before the third day thereof, (if said term shall so long continue, if not then before the end of the term) and file their answer or otherwise plead to said petition, the same will be taken as confession and judgment rendered accordingly.

And it is further ordered by the Clerk aforesaid in vacation, that a copy hereof be published in the Montgomery Tribune, a newspaper published in said Montgomery County, for four weeks successively, published at least once a week the last insertion to be at least fifteen days before the commencement of the next regular term of this Court.

Given under my hand this 9th day of September 1903.
